Dear colleagues and friends, associates and distinguished guests,

It is our great honor and pleasure to welcome you in Croatia, land of thousand Islands and beautiful blue Adriatic Sea for the CSP International Conference on Pelvic Health to be held in Primošten, from May 31st to June 2nd, 2019 in Hotel Zora.

As you should know, Primošten, the real pearl of the Adriatic Sea is a picturesque Mediterranean village that lies at the centre of Dalmatian Coast, with the long tradition of hospitality and tourism in Croatia.

During the Conference we will discuss all aspects of the wide and exciting field of pelviperineology, placing a special emphasis on novel medical technology and techniques of the pelvic surgery, conservative therapy, prevention and rehabilitation as well. The Conference will be really unique occasion to learn and share innovative and best practice, ideas and experiences with colleagues from the all parts of Croatia, including our dear guests from neighbouring and distant countries. Wherever you work, take this opportunity to break away from your daily routine, in order to discover new approaches and to get acquainted with the lessons learned. But most of all, to network and return home with new knowledge, insight, ideas and newly motivate to your work and colleagues.

We are looking forward to invite not only gynecologists, urologists and coloproctologists, but also other different specialists, e.g. oncologists, neurologists, radiologists, general practitioners, physiotherapists, midwives, nurses, etc. from various medical institutions in order to promote modern pelviperineology and its benefits. There will be a significant place oriented towards real medical practitioners, whose own professional experience on interesting cases and complications management will be presented.

At last, Primošten as one of the most beautiful places in the Mediterran offers a friendly and welcoming atmosphere within its landscape and rich history. Exciting social events and excursions will be also offered since Dalmatia is especially charming at this wonderful late spring season.

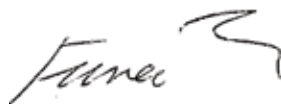

Taking this chance, we thank you for participation in the Conference that will never be successful without your presence.

Finally, please accept our kind regards and best wishes!

Sincerely,

Damir Hodžić
CSP President
